GETTING Around

Known as the “20-minute city”, it’s easy, cheap, safe and quick to get around Canberra, with almost all major locations available within 20 minutes by car.

But you don’t have to drive to get around. You can easily explore Canberra by bus, bike, ride-share or light rail too.

MYWAY TRANSPORT CARD

The most cost-effective way to use the public transport network in Canberra is with a MyWay card. MyWay calculates the cheapest possible fare per passenger, based on any eligible concession and daily or monthly cap fares.

All MyWay fares also include a free 90-minute transfer period so you can connect to a different bus or light rail service or commence your return journey using the same ticket within 90 minutes of purchase.

TRANSPORT OPTIONS

Canberra has an extensive network of cycle paths via stunning bushland that link the University campus to Belconnen town centre and the city. Bicycle hoops and secure storage are set up around the campus to secure your bike.

Whether you're passionate about food, professional networking, a nature lover or an avid festival goer, Canberra is sure to keep you entertained. Here's how we'd recommend spending a day out in Canberra...

Start your morning with an award-winning cup of ONA coffee and a delicious bacon and egg roll from Highroad in Dickson, before taking a scenic light rail ride down Northbourne Ave.

Celebrate your victory afterwards with a stroll down Lonsdale Street in Braddon, lined with quirky shops, delicious eats and fun bars and pubs.

Book a banquet dinner at Lazy Su to feast on contemporary Korean (cheeseburger spring rolls = essential) and some delicious cocktails.
