In developing this policy the University had regard to the provisions of section 40B(1)(b) of the Human Rights Act 2004 (ACT).

1. PURPOSE:

- 1.1. This Policy sets out the principles and requirements for University of Canberra (University) third party provider delivery arrangements, in Australia and offshore.
- 1.2. This Policy should be read with the Course Delivery by Third Party Providers Procedure.

2. SCOPE:

- 2.1. This Policy applies to:
 - 2.1.1. students admitted to an award course delivered by a third party provider;
 - 2.1.2. participants enrolled in a non-award course or other non-formal learning delivered by a third party provider;
 - 2.1.3. staff and affiliates of the University involved in the delivery or administration of third party provider
 - 2.1.4. arrangements; and
 - 2.1.5. third party partner staff.
- 2.2. This Policy covers both award and non-award courses and units of study, including, but not restricted to:
 - 2.2.1. award courses;
 - 2.2.2. non-award courses (including individual accredited units offered as non-award study); and
 - 2.2.3. other non-formal learning.
- 2.3. For non-accredited and non-award offerings, this Policy should be applied to the extent the context requires and is deemed reasonable given the circumstances of delivery, for example, where a third party will be engaged in ongoing and scaled delivery of non-award programs.

3. PRINCIPLE:

3.1. All third party provider courses are designed, monitored, delivered and quality assured in a manner compliant with the Higher Education Standards Framework \(Threshold Standards\) 2021, as articulated in the University's Course Policy.

Students

3.2. Students enrolled in a University unit or course delivered by a third party provider will have access to the same or equivalent educational services, support and facilities as on-partner students, or as specified in the partner agreement and unless prohibited by laws and policies of the third party provider's jurisdiction.

Staff

3.3. Academic staff teaching University accredited units or courses will be appropriately qualified and experienced in accordance with the Higher Education Standards Framework \(Threshold Standards\) 2021.

3.4. The University will ensure staff engaged with third party provider units or courses are appropriately prepared for the cultural and organisational context in which they work.

3.5. If the provider agreement states that certain University rules, policies and procedures apply to the course or study, all staff employed by a third party provider must abide by the terms of the provider agreement as to the application of any rules, policies and procedures to the course and its students.

3.6. The University will provide all staff employed by a third party provider to manage or teach University accredited study, or provide administrative support for University students, with appropriate orientation and induction into the relevant University rules, policies and procedures (as per responsibilities below).

3.7. The University has the right to approve academic staff employed by third party providers to teach University accredited study.

Quality Assurance

3.8. The responsibilities of the University and the third party provider for delivering a unit or course will be set out in legal documentation developed according to University legal process and procedures.

3.9. University accredited units and courses delivered by a third party provider will be of equivalent academic standard and lead to the same learning outcomes as accredited units and courses provided by the University. Equivalence of learning outcomes are only to be utilised when approved by Academic Board.

3.10. University non-award units and non-award courses delivered by a third party provider will be of the same academic standard (or equivalent where localisation is required) as units and courses provided by the University.

3.11. Awards of the University delivered by a third party or in collaboration with a third party are subject to the same approval, reaccreditation and performance monitoring requirements as any other award of the University; but there will be additional oversight of the academic quality of partnered deliveries, as follows:

3.11.1. Faculty Boards oversee academic quality assurance of third party delivery of courses and report on this as part of the annual partner review process.

3.11.2. Academic Quality Standards Committee (AQSC) will be provided with an annual consolidated report on academic quality of partnered deliveries.

3.11.3. Student cohort performance reporting - involving comprehensive analysis, action setting and evaluation of completed actions, will be reported by Faculty Boards to the Academic Quality Standards Committee.

Governance

3.12. The University will enter into a contract with each third party provider. The terms of a contract for course delivery with a third party provider will support the University's mission and the achievement of the goals of its Strategic Plan.

3.13. The University will undertake due diligence prior to entering into third party provider contracts and will identify, manage and monitor risks associated with its third party provider contracts.

3.14. The University will maintain a database of the details of its third party provider contracts and will appropriately resource the management and monitoring of its third party provider contracts.

3.15. Contracts with third party providers will provide for exit strategies that enable the University to meet its obligations to students.

4. RESPONSIBILITIES:

4.1. Responsibilities of each party will be set out in the contract for a third party arrangement. Where the contract provides for specific services to be managed or delivered by the third party, the responsibility of the relevant University support unit may be limited to overseeing service provision and ensuring that academic standards, learning and teaching, facilities or services meet the needs of students and are equivalent to those provided by the University in other locations and delivery modes. Responsibilities in this section must be considered in this context.

7. DEFINITIONS:

Terms	Definitions
Academic staff	Staff of the University or a third party provider employed to conduct and/or manage teaching and/or research.
Accredited unit	An accredited unit is a single component of a qualification, or a stand-alone unit, that has been accredited by the same process as for a whole Australian Qualifications Framework qualification. In Australia an accredited unit may be called a 'module', 'subject', 'unit of competency' or 'unit'.
Contract	Legal and enforceable agreement between the University of Canberra and a third party provider. This may take the form of a Memorandum of Agreement, an Affiliation Agreement, or a contract.
Course	A course of study and instruction, leading to an award, provided under rule 5 of the University of Canberra Courses and Awards (Courses of Study) Rules 2023 . A course is the total program of studies in which a student is enrolled. Successful completion of all the requirements of a course is the normal prerequisite for the granting of a University award.
Mode of delivery	Modes of delivery may be face to face, distance education, blended/flexible learning, online, intensive or some combination of one or all of these.

Moderation	Moderation is a process whereby academic staff responsible for assessment in a unit reach consensus about levels of student performance in relation to a set of agreed standards as outlined in the University Assessment Procedure .
Third Party Provider	A separate legal entity to the University (though the entity may be a controlled or related entity of the University) that the University enters into a provider agreement with for the purposes of delivering University accredited units and courses to students.
