

Ms Christine Tabart commenced with the Project as our new Senior Research Officer on 27 June, 2005.

Chris gained her degree at Griffith University, moving to Canberra in 1978 to work in the Department of Trade & Resources. In 1986 she took up a position in the Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies at the Australian National University and from there she moved across to the Centre for Developing Cities at the University of Canberra in 2003.