Dr Leah Moore and UC Scholarship for Women in Non-Traditional Areas of Study

Closing Date: Census Date Semester One

This scholarship is valued at $1,000 and is available for one year. This scholarship is generously funded by Dr Leah Moore and the University’s Access Scholarship Scheme. Students enrolled in an undergraduate degree in a non-traditional area of study for women, such as Architecture, Landscape Architecture, Science, Computing or Engineering are encouraged to apply. Applicants should attach a 500-word statement outlining their interest in the award, how the financial assistance will help with study, and should also attach two referee reports.

To be eligible an applicant must:
- Be in receipt of a Centrelink benefit, or be able to provide evidence of financial hardship;
- Be approved for an offer of place or be enrolled on a full-time or part-time basis in an undergraduate degree in a non-traditional area of study for women such as architecture, science, computing, engineering;
- Have a UAI score greater than 85 or a sound academic record.
