

How to create an ORCID account and import publications from SCOPUS

1. Go to <http://orcid.scopusfeedback.com/>. The below screen will appear. If you already have an ORCID account, please go to Step 11.

Scopus | ORCID

Send Scopus Author details and publication list to ORCID

Your publications on Scopus may be spread over a number of different Author profiles, because these are generated automatically. In order to create a single profile containing the correct publications, please follow the steps in this wizard. On completion, any changes will also be sent as corrections to Scopus.

ORCID (Open Researcher and Contributor ID) seeks to remedy the systemic name ambiguity problems seen in scholarly research by assigning unique identifiers linkable to an individual's research output. If you have not yet created an ORCID profile, you will be able to do so during the process that follows; alternatively, you can register first at <http://orcid.org> and then import your works from your profile page.

The "Start" button will take you to the ORCID site, where you can give permission for us to read your ORCID record (in order to find your profile(s) in Scopus), and send your ID to ORCID. If you choose to send a list of your publications to ORCID at the end of this process, we will repeat this to gain permission to update your ORCID record.

Start

2. Once you click on Start, you will be directed to ORCID registration page and fill in the required fields.

Dear Suzanne Bedford,

Thank you for registering for an ORCID identifier. To complete your registration please verify your email address.

- The link to your public record is <http://orcid.org/0000-0001-7763-1634>

Next steps:

1. Add more information to your ORCID Record

Access your ORCID record at <https://orcid.org/my-orcid> and add additional information to your record. Funders, publishers, universities and others use the information contained in an ORCID Record to help decrease the record keeping they ask from you. Increase the amount of information you can share in this way by adding other names you are known by, professional information, funding items you have received and works you have created to your Record.

For tips on adding information to your ORCID record see: <http://support.orcid.org/knowledgebase/articles/460004>

2. Use your ORCID iD when publishing, applying for grants and more

Many systems ask for your ORCID iD to create a link between you and your research outputs. Continue to use your ORCID iD whenever it is asked for to get credit for your work and decrease future record keeping.

3. After authorising your registration, you will be directed to ORCID.SCOPUS page where you can update your profile in SCOPUS and automatically link it to your ORCID account. Select the profiles that are yours. Please be aware that you may have more than one profile in SCOPUS.

12. From the Add Works button, please choose Search and Link and select Scopus to ORCID. You will be directed to SCOPUS.ORCID page (See step 1 of this manual). You can start selecting your publications to add to your ORCID account.

The screenshot shows the ORCID 'LINK WORKS' interface. On the left, there is a sidebar with fields for Country, Keywords, Websites, Emails (Suzie.Bedford@canberra.edu.au), and Other IDs (ResearcherID N-1931-2015, Scopus Author ID 7003578068). The main area is titled 'LINK WORKS' and includes a 'Works (14)' header. In the top right corner, there are buttons for '+ Add works', 'Bulk edit', and 'Sort'. Below these, a dropdown menu is open, showing 'Search & link' (circled in red), 'Import BibTeX', and '+ Add manually'. The main content area lists several link wizards: 'Airiti', 'Australian National Data Service (ANDS) Registry', 'CrossRef Metadata Search', 'DataCite Metadata Search', 'Europe PubMed Central', 'ISNI2ORCID search and link', 'MLA International Bibliography', 'ResearcherID', and 'Scopus to ORCID' (circled in red). Each wizard has a brief description and a dropdown arrow.

13. Your ORCID profile is not automatically updated. Please go to Step 12 for updating. Please be aware that the ORCID system allows duplicate papers. You can remove duplicate papers from your ORCID account.
14. If you have a ResearcherID, you can also link it to your ORCID profile as shown in Step 12, but select ResearcherID instead of Scopus to ORCID. Both ORCID and ResearcherID system allow duplicate papers. You can delete duplicate papers from either system.
