About this course

Enforce your legal aspirations on a global level

Exercise your right to a rewarding career in strategic analysis, trade relations, the legal sector or working for an international aid organization with this Double Degree, where you'll learn about the workings of global political institutions and explore the complex field of 'relations between nations'.

You'll explore topics including governance, foreign policy, national security and the implications of post-globalisation, and negotiate a range of research methods and analytical techniques.

Secure your fully accredited Law degree (yep, you'll be admitted to practice law in Australia), and through research-led educational methods and legal problem-solving instruction, intrinsically develop your advocacy abilities.

Like to hit the ground running? Through its linkages to law firms, governments and overseas universities, the UC also offers invaluable internships and a range of globally located study programs that will have you dusting off that must-use passport in no time.

Combine a Bachelor of Politics and International Relations / Bachelor of Laws and you will:

- gain an advanced understanding of the disciplinary perspectives of politics and international relations
- understand political institutions and processes and how they operate, including at the national level and international levels
- develop competence in a range of research methods and analytical techniques
- gain a broad theoretical and technical knowledge of the discipline of law, suitable for entering the legal profession or undertaking other careers involving legal work
- be able to present ideas and opinions effectively and communicate within and across professional and cultural boundaries
- be able to work independently, problem solve and analyse and evaluate information in a systematic, creative and insightful way
- use your professional knowledge and skills ethically and responsibly, for the benefit of others and the environment.

Work-integrated learning

In this course, you can undertake a workplace internship as part of the Faculty of Business, Government and Law's commitment to supporting work-integrated learning, which will enhance your employability and ensure you're armed with the right mix of skills and knowledge to take a super-confident leap into your future career.

Career opportunities

Opportunities exist for Bachelor of Politics and International Relations / Bachelor of Laws graduates in a range of job sectors, including in:

- The Legal Profession
- Diplomacy
- Strategic Analysis

- Trade Relations
- International Aid Organisations
- Non-Government Organisations.

Course specific information

Applicants must meet normal university requirements for admission to an undergraduate degree course.

Professional accreditation

The Bachelor of Laws is recognised by the Supreme Court of the Australian Capital Territory and the State of New South Wales. Through mutual recognition, UC's degree may serve as the basis for admission in all Australian jurisdictions. Through a program offered in conjunction with the College of Law, students may (in their final year of the Bachelor of Laws at UC) begin their Graduate Diploma in Legal Practice course that qualifies for them for admission. Arrangements exist for students to articulate into programs leading to admission in the UK and the United States.

Admission requirements

Normal UC requirements for admission to an undergraduate course.

Additional admission requirements

Refer to individual courses.

Assumed knowledge

Refer to individual courses.

Periods course is open for new admissions

This course is not open for new admissions.

Credit arrangements

There are currently no formal credit transfer arrangements for entry to this course. Any previous study or work experience will only be considered as part of the application process in accordance with current course rules and university policy. ## Honours

Refer to individual courses. (i) To be eligible to undertake studies at honours level, a student must achieve at least a credit average in all law units undertaken at the University of Canberra, this being determined by averaging their scores in all eligible subjects. Eligible Units: Eligible Units are those which count towards the Entry GPA and Honours GPA. Eligible Units are: - Any Law unit done which counts towards your LLB (i.e., not the subjects going only towards the non-law degree if you are enrolled in a double degree. If you are enrolled in a straight LLB, your open electives are not counted). - This includes Units for which you receive Advanced Standing, whether done at UC or elsewhere. - Where you have done extra subjects which may count, e.g. more than the required amount of law electives, your best results will be counted. (ii) Law Honours has 12 credit points of research-related units. These are made up of: - Legal Methods and Skills (3cp) - Advanced Legal Research and Writing (Honours) (3cp) - Law Honours (6cp) (iii) The degree of Bachelor of Laws may be awarded with first or second class honours. Following submission of an Honours thesis as part of the unit Law Honours, students must show a Good performance by receiving a minimum of a Credit in the 6 credit point restricted choice unit Law Honours. Calculating the final class of honours: Law degrees with Honours are awarded in the following classes depending on - the Honours GPA obtained and the standard of the Honours Thesis. First Class: Showing an exceptional performance by both an Honours GPA of at least 6 and a mark of 80 and above in the honours component of your assessment Second Class - Division I: Showing a Very Good performance by both an Honours GPA of at least 5.5 and a mark of 73 and above in the honours component of your assessment Second Class - Division II: Showing a Good performance by both an Honours GPA of at least 5 and a mark of 65 and above in the Honours component of your assessment Calculating the Honours GPA GPAs are calculated by using the University's system. The Unit Law Honours will be weighted as 30% for the purposes of calculating the Honours GPA. Units used in the Honours GPA are as described in Eligible units above for entry to the Honours component of the course. Note that marks are not automatically rounded up for purposes of Honours. Thus 4.99 does not become 5.00. Where your final mark is within two marks of the next level of honours, or of achieving honours at all (e.g. a 4.8 is rounded up to 5.0), you can apply in writing to have your honours result upgraded. This will be determined by the Law Program Manager and the Law Honours Unit Convener, taking into account your academic record and any mitigating circumstances which may have affected your academic performance.
