About this course

Kick-start your sports media career

Get your game face on and combine your passion for sports reportage with a Double Degree that will allow you to kick winning goals with the additional qualification of an accredited law degree.

Score a career as a sports journalist, facilities manager or sports sector lawyer and show off your professional print, radio, television and online journalism skills, develop the ability to initiate stories, respond to material provided by news sources and transmit it in a range of presentation modes (get that commentator voice on!).

You'll also study editing, media production, event management and a range of law electives (like equity, corporation and administrative law), and combined with a compulsory internship (possibly internationally-based), you can also fast track your admission to legal practice qualifications, which are offered in conjunction with the College of Law. Champion!

Combine a Bachelor of Sports Media / Bachelor of Laws at UC and you will:

- demonstrate an ability to apply the journalistic and communication theories which underpin sport journalism practice
- train to a professional standard in print, radio, television and online journalism, including developing the ability to initiate stories, respond to material provided by news sources and choose from a range of presentation modes
- understand and apply media research methods to the sports media industry
- acquire a broad theoretical and technical knowledge of the discipline of law enabling you to qualify as a practicing lawyer or undertake other careers involving legal work
- undertake electives that will enable you to develop a commercial law focus that will benefit other professions.

Work-integrated learning

In this course, you will undertake a workplace internship as part of the Faculty of Arts and Design's commitment to supporting work-integrated learning, which will enhance your employability and ensure you're armed with the right mix of skills and knowledge to take a super-confident leap into your future career.

Career opportunities

Opportunities exist for Bachelor of Sports Media / Bachelor of Laws graduates in a range of sectors, including as a:

- Solicitor or Barrister
- Sports Journalism
- Sports Broadcasting
- Sports Webcasting

- Corporate Media Information Officer
- Facilities Management
- Sports Management

Course specific information

Applicants must attain the published ATAR score or its equivalent.

Professional accreditation

This program is recognised by the Supreme Court of the Australian Capital Territory and the State of New South Wales. Through mutual recognition, UC's degree may serve as the basis for admission in all Australian jurisdictions. Through a program offered in conjunction with the College of Law, students may (in their final year of the Bachelor of Laws at UC) begin their Graduate Diploma in Legal Practice course that qualifies for them for admission. Arrangements exist for students to articulate into programs leading to admission in the UK and the United States.

Admission requirements

Attainment of the published ATAR or its equivalent.

Admission to a double degree course will ensure that the student will be permitted to proceed in the Bachelor of Laws component of the course. However, before the final two years (full time equivalent) of the Bachelor of Laws course can be undertaken, students undertaking a double degree must have satisfied the requirement for the first degree in the double degree course. Students undertaking the double degree course will be awarded the first degree in the double degree course upon completion of the academic requirements for that course.

Additional admission requirements

Refer to individual courses.

Assumed knowledge

Refer to individual courses.

Periods course is open for new admissions

This course is not open for new admissions.

Credit arrangements

There are currently no formal credit transfer arrangements for entry to this course. Any previous study or work experience will only be considered as part of the application process in accordance with current course rules and university policy. Credit is not permitted towards completion of a graduate certificate.

Honours

The degree of Bachelor of Laws may be awarded with first or second class honours. Requirements are specified in the Determination of Course Particulars for the Bachelor of Laws.

(i) To be eligible to undertake studies at honours level, a student must achieve at least a credit average in all law units undertaken at the University of Canberra, this being determined by averaging their scores in all eligible subjects.

Eligible Units: Eligible Units are those which count towards the Entry GPA and Honours GPA. Eligible Units are:

- Any Law unit done which counts towards your LLB (i.e., not the subjects going only towards the non-law degree if you are enrolled in a double degree. If you are enrolled in a straight LLB, your open electives are not counted).
- This includes Units for which you receive Advanced Standing, whether done at UC or elsewhere.
- Where you have done extra subjects which may count, e.g. more than the required amount of law electives, your best results will be counted.

(ii) Law Honours has 12 credit points of research-related units. These are made up of:

- Legal Methods and Skills (3cp)
- Advanced Legal Research and Writing (Honours) (3cp)
- Law Honours (6cp)

(iii) The degree of Bachelor of Laws may be awarded with first or second class honours. Following submission of an Honours thesis as part of the unit Law Honours, students must show a Good performance by receiving a minimum of a Credit in the 6 credit point restricted choice unit Law Honours.

Calculating the final class of honours:

Law degrees with Honours are awarded in the following classes depending on the Honours GPA obtained and the standard of the Honours Thesis.

First Class: Showing an exceptional performance by both an Honours GPA of at least 6 and a mark of 80 and above in the honours component of your assessment

Second Class - Division I: Showing a Very Good performance by both an Honours GPA of at least 5.5 and a mark of 73 and above in the honours component of your assessment

Second Class - Division II: Showing a Good performance by both an Honours GPA of at least 5 and a mark of 65 and above in the Honours component of your assessment

Calculating the Honours GPA

¿ GPAs are calculated by using the University¿s system. The Unit Law Honours will be weighted as 30% for the purposes of calculating the Honours GPA. Units used in the Honours GPA are as described in ¿Eligible units¿ above for entry to the Honours component of the course.

Note that marks are not automatically rounded up for purposes of Honours. Thus 4.99 does not become 5.00. Where your final mark is within two marks of the next level of honours, or of achieving honours at all (e.g. a 4.8 is rounded up to 5.0), you can apply in writing to have your honours result upgraded. This will be determined by the Law Program Manager and the Law Honours Unit Convener, taking into account your academic record and any mitigating circumstances which may have affected your academic performance.

High performing students may be eligible to enrol in the Bachelor of Sport Studies (Honours)
