About this course

If you enjoy IT but prefer business analysis and strategy to technical coding or programming, then UC's Graduate Certificate in Business Informatics is the right course for you. A unique blend of data analytics and business management, you can take your career to new heights, fill a skills gap, or simply learn something new in this course. Designed to introduce you to some of the core concepts of the 'Information Age', this course will allow you to explore specific IT areas such as systems modelling, project management, and the use of enterprise systems to support business process, information flows, reporting and data analytics in complex organisations. You can complete this course in as little as one semester full-time. Alternatively, study part-time and complete the course within one year (two semesters). Further your studies. Thinking of upgrading your qualifications? Successful completion of this course serves as a pathway into the Graduate Diploma in Business informatics and Master of Business Informatics.
