About this course

This four year double degree course offers a flexible program of studies in commerce and economics. It provides business professionals and economists with the relevant knowledge and skills for admission to their respective professional communities and prepares students for a wide range of fields in both the private and public sectors. This double degree will enhance a graduate's employment opportunities and can be a key component to career success. Bachelor of Commerce students specialise in one of the following areas: Accounting, Banking & Financial Services, Business Administration, Economics, Financial Planning, Human Resource Management, Information Systems, International Business, Marketing Management, Public Sector Management, or Tourism Management. Students who complete the requirements of one degree may graduate in that degree before completing the double degree.

Professional accreditation

This course is accredited by CPA Australia and the Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ). The Financial Planning major is accredited by the Financial Planning Association of Australia (FPA).

Admission requirements

Normal UC requirements for admission to an undergraduate course.

Additional admission requirements

Refer to individual courses.

Assumed knowledge

It is recommended that students have Mathematics T/Mathematic Applications (ACT) or Mathematics (NSW) and English (major) (ACT) or English Advanced (NSW), or their equivalents. International students need to meet the English language requirements of the University of Canberra. Students should note the assumed knowledge requirements for individual majors and minors when choosing a program of study.

Periods course is open for new admissions

This course is not open for new admissions.

Credit arrangements

There are currently no formal credit transfer arrangements for entry to this course. Any previous study or work experience will only be considered as part of the application process in accordance with current course rules and university policy. Credit is not permitted towards completion of a graduate certificate.

Course information

Course duration

Standard eight semesters full-time or equivalent. Maximum twenty semesters.

Learning outcomes

Learning outcomes	Related graduate attributes
The degree provides students with a strong core of knowledge in economic theory.	.
Students will learn to apply economic theory in the analysis of a wide-array of problems and real life situations.	Problem solving: ability to apply problem-solving processes in novel situations; identify, analyse problems then formulate, implement solutions.
Students will develop a deeper understanding of the workings of the economy.	Analysis and inquiry: ability to gather information, analyse and evaluate information and situations in a systematic, creative and insightful way.

Students will understand how different economic agents (such as consumers and producers) interact in the market and how government intervention affects their behaviour.

Students will develop the skills to write economic reports (individually or in groups) and communicate their ideas (and findings) through oral presentations.

Communication: ability to present knowledge, ideas and opinions effectively and communicate within and across professional and cultural boundaries.

Students will develop the skills to identify economic problems and apply critical thinking to find and evaluate solutions.

Problem solving: ability to apply problem-solving processes in novel situations; identify, analyse problems then formulate, implement solutions.

Working independently and with others:

ability to plan own work, be self-directed, use interpersonal skills and attitudes to work collaboratively.

Students will be able to interpret economic information and confidently analyse economic data and provide advice to various stakeholders.

Analysis and inquiry: ability to gather information, analyse and evaluate information and situations in a systematic, creative and insightful way.

Professionalism and social responsibility: capacity and intention to use professional knowledge and skills ethically and responsibly, for the benefits of others and the environment.

Graduates of the Bachelor of Commerce will have acquired in-depth disciplinary knowledge and a cohesive set of cognitive, technical and generic skills in one or more of the following areas: Accounting, Banking & Financial Services, Business Administration, Economics, Financial Planning, Human Resource Management, Information Systems, International Business, Marketing Management, Public Sector Management, or Tourism Management. The program is designed to produce graduates with professional attributes appropriate to their intended careers. This degree also prepares students for postgraduate studies.

Graduates who complete the Bachelor of Commerce will obtain an in-depth knowledge of relevant disciplinary theory and practices, as well as the practical application of this in one or more of the discipline areas listed above. In addition, graduates will have a broad understanding of concepts which are fundamental to commerce, such as statistics, commercial law, information systems, management, plus the interrelationships between government and business.

Graduates will develop:  $\zeta$  the cognitive skills required to critically analyze, evaluate and synthesize concepts and theories acquired in one or more of the following discipline areas, Accounting, Banking & Financial Services, Business Administration, Economics, Financial Planning, Human Resource Management, Information Systems, International Business, Marketing Management, Public Sector Management, or Tourism Management,  $\zeta$  the technical and generic skills required to apply discipline-specific technologies in one or more of those discipline areas,  $\zeta$  the independent learning skills needed to stay up-to-date with advances in theoretical frameworks and professional practices after graduation,  $\zeta$  the personal skills required to provide professional advice in the discipline or disciplines they choose to study. Graduates will be able to exercise critical thinking and applied analytical skills in identifying which information is relevant to specific decisions being made. They will also be able to identify whether they have all relevant information when advising clients or management, and have the ability to succinctly request or obtain missing information.  $\zeta$  the communication skills needed to present a clear, coherent and independent exposition of knowledge and ideas to a variety of stakeholders using technical and non-technical language, depending on the audience.

Graduates of the Bachelor of Commerce will be able to apply the knowledge and skills acquired to a diverse range of problems that early career professionals would be expected to deal with. As students progress through the course, they will develop the capacity to exercise their own initiative and professional judgement in an ethically responsible manner to analyse problems that are less clearly defined, more complex, and require application of concepts in a variety of disciplinary and sub-disciplinary contexts. Communication, applied research, teamwork, and negotiation skills will be developed through team based assignments, some of which deal with ambiguously defined problems.

UC acknowledges the Ngunnawal people, traditional custodians of the lands where Bruce campus is situated. We wish to acknowledge and respect their continuing culture and the contribution they make to the life of Canberra and the region. We also acknowledge all other First Nations Peoples on whose lands we gather.
