About this course

The Master of Human Resource Management is designed to equip you for managerial positions requiring a broad understanding of human resources and its essential role within your organisation. It is designed for people who are working in an HR area and want to complement their practical knowledge with a sound theoretical base, or those contemplating a career in human resource management. The course equips you with specialist skills in employee recruitment and selection, training and development and performance management. The course also emphasises a strategic approach to the management of people in paid employment and in leadership development.

Professional accreditation

The Master of Human Resource Management MGM201 is currently accredited by the Australian HR Institute (AHRI). Students applying for this course can be assured that the quality of core units map onto the AHRI Model of Excellence for HR Practitioners and Academics, a recognised benchmark of HR best practice and standards.

All graduates of the Master qualification who meet the requisite work experience requirements will be eligible for direct entry into the AHRI Practising Certification (APC) Program (Unit 4 Capstone: Applied Project in Organisational Capability). Candidates who have successfully completed the Capstone project will be awarded HR certification by AHRI and be recognised as Certified Practitioners HR (CPHR).
