By choosing UC, you’re choosing to live in the best city in the world. Canberra has been named the city with the highest quality of living worldwide an incredible five times. Canberra’s top spot in the global rankings highlights the ongoing relevance of the OECD’s 2014 report, which labelled Canberra the best place to live on the planet.
When Lewis Haskew put on his graduation cap and gown, he’d already worked in his dream job for months. Now a much-loved voice on Canberra’s airwaves, Lewis secured his role as a news reader for the ACT’s most prolific radio network, Canberra FM, while completing his Bachelor of Communications in Journalism at UC.

Lewis credits his success as a young journalist to the opportunities he received as a student. ‘At uni, I learnt a lot about myself — who I am and what I want to do,’ he reflects. ‘My tutors and lecturers were either working journalists, or former journos with a tonne of experience in the field. They brought their own stories to the classroom and used their connections to help me get a foot in the door.’

‘One of my lecturers was a former ABC journalist, with strong connections to ABC Canberra. She helped me get my first internship at the ABC studios, and my career’s progressed from there.’

In his final year, Lewis won the Peter Leonard Scholarship for Broadcast Journalism. After spending three weeks working at WIN Television, Lewis’ segments aired in prime spots in the evening news. ‘It was incredibly exciting. To go from studying journalism to having the chance to put my studies into practice on-camera was amazing.’

Canberra has proved the perfect place for Lewis to start his career. ‘I love Canberra — it’s a world-class city without all the people.’

‘For students, having national media at Parliament House and unique local media outlets creates great opportunities for hands-on experience.’

Energetic, driven and agile, Emily Coates’ success stems from taking chances, believing in her talent and actively embracing new challenges.

While studying for her Bachelor of Advertising and Marketing Communication, Emily took advantage of every exciting experience UC threw her way, including spending a semester studying fashion marketing in Milan at the Istituto Europeo di Design.

‘Studying abroad was a real highlight of my time at uni. I learnt from some of the industry’s top fashion marketers, stepped behind the scenes of luxury fashion brands and explored Europe on weekends. It doesn’t get much better!’

After returning to Canberra with the world in her sights, Emily’s diverse career has seen her do everything from managing digital campaigns for Cartier to working on award-winning brand campaigns for the Australian Air Force, and starting her own social media consultancy agency to buying HOORAY!, an online magazine for lovers of parties and good times.

Exhausted? Ain’t nobody got time for that!

Emily has lived her life by two simple rules: have your own back, and just say yes.

‘Take opportunities as they come to you — big and small. You get invited to an event? Go. Someone asks you to get involved in a project? Do it. You never know where these small actions will lead.’

‘Start making your own opportunities and — I promise — more will come your way.’

I loved every moment of my time studying abroad in Italy. Learning from the world's best fashion marketers gave me skills that I use every day.

“EMILY COATES
UC Alumni, Owner and Editor, HOORAY!”
WE LOVE CANBERRA

Canberra has been ranked as the most liveable city in the world, with its residents enjoying the highest quality of life.

FEELING HUNGRY?

COFFEE

In Canberra, we take our coffee seriously. Very seriously. Embrace Canberra’s café culture to discover great food, delicious pastries and fresh cups o’ joe. Head to Lonsdale Street in Braddon for excellent java at Barrio and Lonsdale Street Roasters, or to the city to get your fix amongst the murals of The Cupping Room.

EATS

Jam-packed with award-winning restaurants, fresh food markets and annual food festivals, you’ll never run out of places to eat in Canberra. From burger bars like Grease Monkey and Brodburger to Italian classics at Chez Frederic, there’s something to satisfy everyone’s tastebuds. Make sure you check out the annual street food festival The Forage, and head to the Belconnen Fresh Food Markets and EPIC Farmers Market for the best fruit and veg in town.

INTERNATIONAL

With around 25 per cent of the population born overseas, Canberra is a truly multicultural city. The Multicultural Festival takes over the city centre in February with over 300 food stalls from every part of the globe, as well as live music and dancing across six stages. Relive your European summer while enjoying cheap and delicious food at the Harmonie German Club or Polish White Eagle Club. Craving authentic Asian cuisine? Head to the suburb of Dickson for great laksa, dumplings and kimchi.
NIGHTLIFE

LIVE MUSIC
If you live for live music, the UC Refectory is going to be your new home. Located right on campus, this venue pulls seriously heavy punches, making sure UC students get to party to some of the biggest names in the country – think everyone from Allday to Peking Duk to Troye Sivan.

UC helped me grow as a person.

NICK SMITH
UC Alumni, Bar Rochford owner

BARS AND PUBS
No matter your tastes, you’ll be impressed with Canberra’s booming bar scene. Famous for its grungy fine times, Bar Rochford (run by UC alumni Nick Smith) took out top place in Gourmet Traveller’s 2018 ‘Bar of the Year’ awards. Experience magical mixology at Highball Express and Molly’s, Canberra’s favourite speakeasy. If you’re into craft beer, head to Bentspoke or Capital Brewing Co. to enjoy a pint in a working brewery.

HOLD ME CLOSER, TINY DANCER
Unlike other major cities we won’t name (cough Sydney), our parties don’t shut down just as things are getting started. Dance until dawn to national and international DJs at Mr Wolf or head to the famous Mooseheads for classic pub rock.
OUT AND ABOUT

CULTURE
As the capital of Australia, Canberra is home to our national cultural institutions. Art lovers can indulge their passion at the National Gallery of Australia while history buffs will have their minds blown at the National Museum of Australia.
And that’s just the tip of the iceberg! Whether you’re taking in a famous face at the National Portrait Gallery or learning about our diggers at the Australian War Memorial, living in Canberra will let you get up close and personal with Australia’s cultural heritage.

FESTIVALS
Canberra is a festival lover’s dream. There are all the classic favourites like Floriade, Skyfire, Enlighten and the Canberra Balloon Spectacular, but did you know we’re also home to world-class music, food and culture festivals? Oktoberfest is a beer-snob’s paradise, while Spilt Milk is a music festival that draws major bands.

ACTION
Canberra is called the Bush Capital for a reason – our stunning natural surrounds are made for adventure. Explore nearby Namadgi National Park, Stromlo Forest Park, Corin Forest and the National Arboretum. Snow-bunnies and surfers won’t have to travel far either – Canberra is only a two-hour drive to the coast or fresh powder.
Now more than ever, it’s vital to have hands-on experience in the workforce before you start your career.

As the game changers and rule breakers shaping Canberra’s aesthetic, UC grads Tim Lynch and Colin Haining don’t believe in doing things by the book. Since opening Inklab Creative Agency in 2009, the two young guns have been driven by the desire to create great work, exactly the way they want.

Tim and Colin met while studying a Bachelor of Graphic Design at UC, and their uni friendship easily transitioned into a fulfilling work partnership. ‘We share a love of design and making things better. After graduating UC and opening Inklab, our business has grown every year in both size and the quality of our work.’

By shaping a work culture that fuses passion, talent and thoughtfulness, Tim and Colin help their team bring their clients’ vision to life with equal measures of electric creativity and careful consideration. ‘We have high standards and we’re constantly pushing ourselves to produce better projects.

The best part of our job is putting work into the world that we’re proud of, and that helps our clients achieve their goals.

For Virginia Haussegger AM, 2019’s ACT Australian of the Year and award-winning journalist and advocate, UC is headquarters for a vital campaign to change the world for the next generation of leaders.

Virginia launched the 50/50 by 2030 Foundation at UC’s Institute for Governance and Policy Analysis, with the aim of seeing women equally represented in leadership and key decision-making roles at all levels of government and public administration throughout Australia and across the region.

She views young people as essential to this movement. ‘As students, you’re key to our work. Gender equality affects us all.’

‘The Foundation is focussing on the future, and the leaders of the future are entering university right now. We want people starting uni to be in leadership roles by 2030, creating change.’

Fees

As you work towards your future, there are certain fees you may need to pay throughout your studies. Fees change depending on your enrolment status and may include Student Services and Amenities Fees and tuition fees.

Domestic Students

University fees for domestic students fall under one of two categories: Fee-Paying Places or Commonwealth Supported Places (CSP). How much you end up paying for your course depends on the type of fees associated with your degree.

All domestic undergraduate students are eligible for a CSP, and some domestic postgraduate students may also be eligible for a CSP depending on their course.

1. Fee-Paying Places

If your course offers Fee-Paying Places, the price listed is the annual fee for students enrolled in full-time study. Although Fee-Paying Places are not subsidised by the Australian Government, you can still access a FEE HELP loan to assist with paying your fees. Please see Financial Support for further information.

2. Commonwealth-Supported Places (CSP)

If you’re enrolled in a CSP, Australian Government funding covers most of your university fees and you only need to pay the amount that’s left over. This is called the Student Contribution Amount. You can choose to pay your Student Contribution Amount upfront, or you can access a HECS-HELP loan to assist with your fees. Please see Financial Support for further information.

Each year, the Australian Government releases the Student Contribution Range which identifies how much a university can charge students. At most universities in Australia, including the University of Canberra, students are charged the maximum amount.

3. Calculating CSP Fees

The various subjects you undertake as part of your degree fall under three separate bands known as Student Contribution Bands.

You can calculate an approximate cost for your degree by selecting the Student Contribution Band relevant to your course and multiplying the full Student Contribution Amount by the number of years your degree takes to complete.

Student Contribution Amounts change each year, so the fees in the year you commence your studies may be different to those in subsequent years. You might also choose to undertake some units during your degree, as part of a major, for example, that fall under another band, and this will impact the overall cost of your degree.

Financial Support

All university fees can be paid upfront, or you can choose to use the Higher Education Loan Program (HELP) to defer paying your fees until a later date. The Australian Government Higher Education Loan Program consists of three loan schemes known as HECS-HELP, FEE-HELP, and SA-HELP.

HeCS-HELP

Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS) is the type of loan you take out as a university student to pay your Student Contribution Amount. All students enrolled in a Commonwealth-Supported Place (CSP) are eligible for a HECS-HELP loan.

FEE-HELP

FEE-HELP is a similar loan scheme to HECS-HELP but for students enrolled in a Fee-Paying Place. FEE-HELP differs from HECS-HELP in that it has a maximum limit that can be borrowed (known as the FEE-HELP limit) and is usually for university students studying postgraduate courses. For 2019, the FEE HELP limit is $104,440 for most students.

SA-HELP

SA-HELP is a loan scheme available to Australian Citizens that have been charged the Student Services and Amenities Fee (SSAF).

Applying for a Help Loan

When you enrol at university, you’ll be asked to complete an online form and select your preferred billing option. You can choose to pay your fees upfront, make a partial payment and defer the remaining fee, or defer the whole payment via your HELP loan.
