Found attached are two digital paintings rendered using Autodesk Sketchbook.

The first image is titled 'Holy No More.' It is a portrait piece of a man looking over his right shoulder towards the viewer. He has pointed ears and blue glowing runes running down his face. His strawberry blond hair is tied into a ponytail and he is wearing a black jacket with a collar. The face is lit from the bottom with the addition of lighting from the runes. The background is a vertical gradient from purple to blue.

The second piece is titled 'Tatsumi.' 'Tatsumi,' is a half body piece of a half human, half demon man based off a character with the same name from a book series called 'Shadow Of The Fox' by Julie Kagawa. He has black hair and horns as well as eyes that are a blend between violet and red. They are looking towards the viewer. He is holding up a blood covered, clawed hand and is looking over his right shoulder to gaze smugly at the audience. The background is a vertical gradient from purple to red.
