

This piece is the summation of all of my experience at school. It brought together all of my skills I have learnt over the years, and shows my perspective on school life. I wanted to give life to all the characters in the scene. I was inspired by my favorite Artist Kim Jung Gi. This was my major task for year 12 semester 1. It is a one panel narrative that tells a story with just one image. I used diluted ink and one small brush. I worked on it most lunchtimes and after school. I hope that it will be something that I will leave behind for future students to see.
